CELEBRATING 15 YEARS

Wardown Park Luton

Sat 1st August - Sun 2nd August 2015

2015 SITEMAP

The history of Mela is a long and colourful one. Originating from South Asia, the word 'Mela' traditionally comes from the Sanskrit 'To Meet'. Mela's were an opportunity for families and communities to come together to celebrate religious, cultural or artistic events.

A Mela meaning 'festival' beautifully describes an exciting summer outdoor event with an emphasis on cultural and artistic programme.

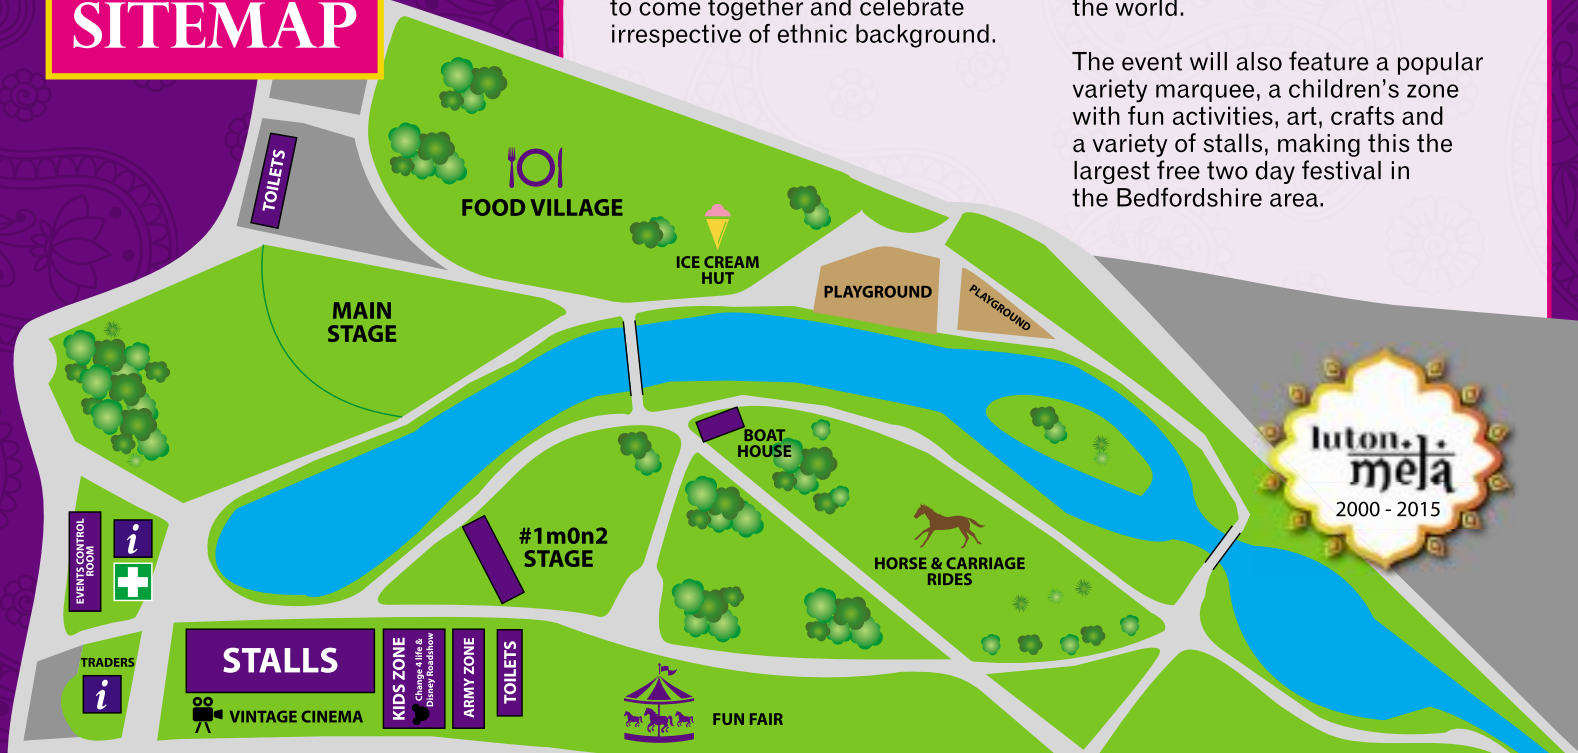

They feature a mix of music, food, and information as well as all the fun of the fair. Mela's are an excellent opportunity for the whole community to come together and celebrate irrespective of ethnic background.

They provide a crucial link with the community and offer organization a valuable opportunity to target a captive audience.

The first Luton mela took place in August 2000 and has developed into one of the most significant and well attended south Asian cultural events in the eastern region.

Due to it being our 15th Anniversary, the Luton Mela this year will be larger than ever. Two stages over two days offering music for all tastes, ranging from Bhangra to Hip Hop dance on the Lyca Mobile stage and Ska, Reggae, Funk & Soul on Stage #1m0n2 (formerly the World Stage) with musicians from across the world.

The event will also feature a popular variety marquee, a children's zone with fun activities, art, crafts and a variety of stalls, making this the largest free two day festival in the Bedfordshire area.

£8k expenses discrepancy leads to probe

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE council's chief executive has been asked to investigate after councillor expenses went up by more than £8,000, the bulk of which came from an ex-Labour councillor's travel claims.

Councillor David Franks, leader of the Luton Liberal Democrats, said Trevor Holden had to look at the claims as some needed 'to be explained'.

In 2013/14 members' expenses came to a total of £447,483 but this rose to £455,865 in 2014/15.

The bulk of the increase came from travel claims made by former Labour councillor Khtija Malik, who was suspended before the election in May because of alleged irregularities with her expenses.

She claimed travel costs of £1,066 in 2013/14 and this shot up to £8,113 in 2014/15.

All councillors receive a basic yearly allowance of £7,500, with varying additional sums being given to those with a 'special responsibility' such as chairing committees or being part of the executive.

They can also claim for costs incurred while travelling on council business.

Cllr Franks said: "Some of these increases in travel claims are astonishing and certainly need to be explained."

"Current and former councillors who have claimed these large amounts should be made to justify them or pay the money back and I have asked the Chief Executive to investigate."

The council published new expenses figures on Friday after mistakenly adding £10,030 to a document it published last week.

An investigation into Mrs Malik's expenses, which started following her suspension in May, has yet to conclude.

Cllr Hazel Simmons, the Labour leader of the council, said she would not be commenting on her former colleague's case because of the probe.

She added: "Apart from a significant increase in one member's claims, most of the rest of the expenses are normal."

A council spokeswoman said the authority would also not be commenting on Mrs Malik's expenses.

She added that no date had been given for the conclusion of the investigation.

Love graduates with honours as boyfriend pops the question

THE normal graduation whoops and cheers of joy were replaced with shouts of 'say yes!' this week when a University of Bedfordshire student received a surprise proposal.

Nazlican Bulbul, a law student from North London, said she was 'shocked' to find her boyfriend of three years Taysun Toguz, 25, kneeling on the grass after the ceremony at Putteridge Bury on Wednesday.

Nephew and uncle are charged with terrorist offences

TWO members of the same family have been charged in connection with terror threats, one of which forced the cancellation of US Air Force Independence Day celebrations at an RAF base.

Junead Ahmed Khan, 24, and his uncle Shazib Ahmed Khan, 22, both from Marlow Road, Luton, were charged with one offence contrary to section 5 of the Terrorism Act.

Junead was also charged with an additional count in connection with a 'planned terrorist attack on US military personnel'.

Deborah Walsh, deputy head of counter terrorism at the Crown Prosecution Service, said: "It is alleged that Junead Khan and Shazib Khan had been planning on travelling to Syria to join the proscribed organisation Islamic State in Levant (ISIL). It is further alleged that Junead Khan was planning a terrorist attack on US military personnel in the UK and he has been charged with an additional terrorism offence to reflect this."

RAF Lakenheath took the decision to cancel the July 4 celebrations at RAF Feltwell when the security threat level was raised.

A spokeswoman from RAF Lakenheath said: "We can confirm this is why the event was cancelled."

"However we cannot discuss details."

Both men have been remanded in custody to appear at the Old Bailey on August 10. Another man in his 30s was also arrested, but has been released without charge.

Independent look at police custody deaths welcomed by justice leader

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE head of a justice campaign has expressed support for a review into deaths in police custody announced by the Home Secretary this week.

Attik Malik, solicitor and one of the key figures in Luton 4 Justice, said: "We definitely welcome it, we were in the process of campaigning for this so ultimately we've got one of the things we wanted."

One of the key aims of the group is to find out what happened in the deaths of Leon Briggs and Istiak Yusuf at Luton Police Station - both incidents are currently under investigation by the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC).

The new review will examine what happened in the build-up and also look at what is done in the aftermath, including ensuing investigations.

Mr Malik expressed some doubts, however, saying: "I hope it's not just going to be a 'ticking boxes' exercise and I'm concerned about the identity of the group carrying out the review."

"People don't trust the IPCC any more than they do the police, so we need this review to properly look into and scrutinise these incidents properly."

Home Secretary Theresa May said: "This review will reduce the use of police cells for those with mental health problems and bring greater transparency to the police use of sensitive powers, and at its heart will be the experience of the families of those who have died in custody."

"I will be asking INQUEST, which has long campaigned on these issues, to consider a formal role in the review and to provide a liaison function with affected families and victims."

"The chairman I will appoint will be someone with the ability to work closely with victims, families and the police alike, and with a proven track record of being willing to ask difficult questions."

SAD LOSS: Mandy Rayner was killed five weeks after her training

Cycling to honour police officer who died on duty

A FORMER detective has started a 180-mile cycle ride in memory of a Luton woman who was the first female police officer in Britain to die while on duty.

Mandy Rayner was killed in October 1982 when a drunk driver deliberately smashed his vehicle into the police car she was in.

She was just 18 and had only been five weeks out of training when she died.

Frank Parsons, 62, attended the scene at the time and is riding with serving and retired officers on the 2015 UK Police Unity Tour, an event honouring fallen colleagues.

He said: "I attended her funeral and this means a lot to me to be able to do this and give something back to the Care of Police Survivors (COPS) charity."

The group set off from the National Police Memorial in London on Friday. They are due to arrive at the National Memorial Arboretum in Staffordshire today for a service organised by COPS.

Full steam ahead for mini railway

A RE-OPENED miniature railway set has received a very good response from customers, a manager has said.

Ron Stanbridge, who runs the Fancott Miniature Railway, said the future was 'a bit brighter' following a severe fire at the Fancott Pub in March this year.

Mr Stanbridge said the pub had paid for a new locomotive and that two carriages had been loaned from another railway in London.

He said: "I was talking to a lady who said she would not be there at the pub if the railway was not there."

"It's something that people want to be there."

However, Mr Stanbridge added that more equipment was required as they have to return some of the borrowed items later in the year.

He added: "The future is a bit brighter but we still need to get some new locomotives and carriages."

Love in the first degree for new graduate Nazli

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A UNIVERSITY student who got engaged minutes after graduating has said she woke up the next day asking herself, 'did that really happen?'.

Nazlican Bulbul, 22, had been casually walking to her graduation group photo on Wednesday when boyfriend Taysun Toguz, 25, popped up in front of a banner bearing the words 'Nazli, will you marry me?'.

He was accompanied by shouts of 'say yes!' as a shocked Nazlican joined him on the grass to accept his offer and send the crowd wild with celebration.

The North London law graduate said the whole thing caught her by surprise as she had been 'just expecting a graduation ceremony'. She said: "I was walking down and I had a lady walking with me to help me get to the photos. She kept saying that she was walking by me because I was wearing heels, but I thought, 'I'm not the only one in heels' and I saw that people were looking at me differently."

"Someone called my name and said they had a message for me. They told me to look over to where he was standing and I was like 'no way!'."

After the proposal the pair celebrated with a bottle of champagne but Nazlican said she was still in shock and 'had no clue what was going on'.

Nazlican added: "It's something that I would expect him to do and I was expecting a proposal but not on the day of my graduation. It made it really special because it's like having two kinds of happiness in one day and it's a day I will never ever forget."

Student unhappy with 'unfair' grade

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A UNIVERSITY student who won an appeal against her final grade said she did not receive enough support from one of her lecturers.

Kyran Chopra, 21, received a 2:2 for her Media Performance course at the University of Bedfordshire (UoB).

She was two marks away from a 2:1 and has been offered the chance to retake the final module but said she will not do so as she will be working abroad for a year before going on to a Masters.

Kyran said: "I have been there for three years and this year they have treated me very differently. My lecturer would never email me back. When I would email her she took two weeks to respond."

"Everyone in my class had a chance to talk to her to find out what else they could have done but I didn't."

In response to her appeal, UoB said she 'may have been disadvantaged as a result of medical circumstances'.

But Kyran said she was in 'perfect health' throughout her project and does not understand why that reason was given.

She said: "I was two marks off a 2:1 and because I'm going abroad, could they not re-mark my work?"

A university spokeswoman said it could not comment due to confidentiality reasons. She added that students unhappy with their results can appeal to the Higher Education Adjudicator's office.

Council organiser is sacked

A LABOUR Party organiser, who claims to be the 'architect' of the party's success, is taking his former bosses to an employment tribunal.

Francis Steer was removed from his council position on the Friday after May's election. Sources close to Mr Steer have said that after the election, a motion was put forward among Luton Labour councillors, with no prior discussion or disciplinary action, to remove the role of organiser from within the party, effectively leaving Mr Steer out of a job.

Mr Steer heard about the motion being carried from a third party, who allegedly received a text message from Luton Borough Labour Party chairman, Mick Ireland.

In a letter addressed to Mr Ireland in the aftermath of the sacking, Mr Steer said: "I am a permanent employee of almost nine years continuous service, during which time I have been the architect of bringing Luton Labour Group from opposition and the aftermath of defeat to overwhelming control of the council, confirmed again at last week's [May's] elections." We contacted Luton Borough Council leader Hazel Simmons, but she felt it would be improper to comment at this time, due to the impending tribunal.

Mr Steer remains in his role as an organiser for the town's Labour MPs.

Council blocks PCC no confidence vote

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MOVE by Conservative councillors to declare a vote of no confidence in Police and Crime Commissioner Ollie Martins was blocked on Tuesday evening.

At a full meeting of Luton Borough Council, the ruling Labour Party refused to carry the motion and instead passed an amended version through.

The hastily made amendment, put forward by Councillor Roy Davis, opted to issue a vote of no confidence in the Home Office for perceived under-funding of the force.

This came after an initial amendment was rejected by CEO Trevor Holden, as it was deemed to be the total opposite of the motion, rather than an amendment.

Cllr Davis said: "The PCC's job is to get the best policing from the resources available, which currently is not enough."

"We should point the finger at the Government, not the PCC, as they know the police is underfunded in Bedfordshire."

The original idea was put forward as a result of the failed referendum to raise council tax back in May, the resignation of former Chief Constable Alf Hitchcock and the retirement of current Chief Constable Colette Paul, all of which happened on his watch.

The Conservative Party led motion was put forward by Cllr John Young and was seconded by Cllr Michael Garrett.

Cllr Garrett said: "We moved for this motion because of the result of the referendum to increase police funding."

"All signs pointed towards the referendum

SAVED: A proposed vote of no confidence in PCC Ollie Martins was blocked by Labour colleagues failing, yet Mr Martins proceeded with it.

"Instead of increasing the budget like he set out to do, it ended up taking £600,000 out of the police budget due to costs of the failed referendum. We expected the Labour Party to block it but we thought it was necessary for it to be heard that a number of councillors felt this way."

The Liberal Democrats offered a different perspective, saying both the PCC and Government should be held responsible.

Cllr Peter Chapman said: "The amendment seeks to deflect blame. We can't have confidence in a PCC so reviled in this county."

"Both are to blame, one for underfunding and the other for wasting police money."

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows.

The company which specialises in repairing up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom

Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee.

But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we

I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way,

"The truth is that it's not just

Grocer speaks out after race incident

BY NICK SMITH

nicksmith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SHOPKEEPER who alleges he was racially abused says it was unlike anything he has ever experienced.

Shahzad Khadam, who runs Day 1 Store in High Town, was subjected to the tirade in the evening of July 9.

Mr Khadam alleges that racist language was used and that a window of his shop was also damaged, along with a newspaper display.

He said: "I've lived all of my life in Luton and have never heard anything like that come out of someone's mouth."

"It was absolute filth and was a real shock for me, my customers and passersby who witnessed it."

"The people of Luton aren't like that, I've never experienced anything like that before."

"I'm just disappointed that people had to see it."

"I didn't react because I had to keep my dignity."

"For somebody to say those things, I just don't understand it."

Mr Khadam also said it took

SHOCK ABUSE: Shahzad Khadam, pictured, says he was racially abused at his High Town shop and inset, the incident on CCTV 50 minutes and several phone calls for the police to arrive at the shop.

He added: "Small crimes seemingly don't matter to them, there's no deterrent for people to not do things like this."

"I feel for the police officers as there has been a reduction in resources, cuts and a lot of red tape for them to have to battle through."

"A lot of the time, if cases like this manage to make it to the courts people just end up with a slap on the wrist, there really is no deterrent."

A spokesman for Bedfordshire Police said: "We are investigating a report of an assault in a store in Old Bedford Road, Luton, at about 8pm on Thursday, July 9."

"A 62-year-old woman has been arrested on suspicion of causing actual bodily harm and criminal damage."

"She has been bailed until Wednesday, July 29."

Olly out?

WHAT a pompous twit Olly sorry Olly Martins is! Waffling on about how 'our financial circumstances mean we have to take some tough decisions' warble warble warble! and how HE is 'convinced' that the amalgamation of three forces is the answer.

Considering that HE was convinced that we as taxpayers would give him 15 per cent more and then was told NO you won't and HIS misguided belief cost the cops a huge amount of money, has caused in part the dire financial difficulties.

The answer is NOT amalgamation the answer is simple.

Sack Olly Martins and make HIM personally liable for the debt HE was responsible for.

'Heads should roll'

IT was reported in last week's LoS that over £6m of housing benefit has been overpaid by the muppets at the big house at LU1.

Whatever the reason, heads should roll.

And they aren't going to get it back because 'it's been written off'. Just like that. I think I'll tell my building society they can't have any more of my money because I've 'written it off'. A single over-payment to one individual of £27,000 can't be recovered because of a statute of time limitations. So just how long has it taken to uncover this disgrace? What do we pay those expensive auditors for?

No wonder half of Africa and the Middle East are bypassing Italy and France to get to the UK if our lot's lackadaisical regime is in any way typical of the rest of the country. Word's obviously got around.

To 'mislay' millions of pounds of tax-payers' money - especially in a time of stringent austerity - ought to mean long prison sentences with hard labour and no parole. And this is the lot that turned down a free hand-out from government in favour of jacking up our council tax because the handout wasn't quite enough. Now we know why it wasn't enough, don't we? Our money was being used as confetti in George Street.

Robert Mugabe would be proud of them.

Motoring tip

MAY I use your esteemed media to provide a motoring tip to what seems to be a growing category of car owners in Luton?

There is a sort of stick on the left or right hand side of your vehicle's steering column which, if you move it up or down, activates a light on the outside of your vehicle which signals to other road users and pedestrians - for whom I am sure you have respect and consideration - which direction you are going at, for example, roundabouts and junctions.

This would be very helpful.

Open up to CosmopoLuton

I WOULD like to respond to the letter by Ms Sharon 'The Wrong Message' printed in LoS on Sunday July 12.

I fully understand an uneasiness of many native Lutonians about these 'terrible' writings in foreign languages on the foreign shops.

It must be deeply concerning seeing someone's town changing so quickly. Britain is an English-speaking land, here was Shakespeare and Orwell whom we all should love to the bones.

They are great and very important. It's beautiful!

It is obvious too, that for all residents from different backgrounds the most profound thing is to have the ability to speak English fluently.

It's a result of rationality and respect too.

As Ms Sharon asks why it does take place, I'd like to offer a plausible explanation.

When it happens to be a foreigner, say Polish, who is creative, ambitious in retailing and has found an economic niche in which he or she can build their business, they will do all they can to make their shop more attractive for customers in their niche.

Is it wrong?

Who knows?

Does it cause harm?

To whom?

It works for trade for sure. If one happened to be in Poland for one reason or another and walked on the High Street in the centre of some town, one would be amazed to see the quantity of English language on the shops.

Of course these shops are owned by local native Polish retailers.

But this is the point. In Poland, English is attractive, it is exotic in some niches too! My father owned a small business in Poland in the late 90s and early 00s which unfortunately went bankrupt, partly because he failed to compete with foreign big sharks (including British).

Is it wrong? Who knows? Does it cause harm? To whom?

Here and now. It happens that I live in England and it is tough sometimes, but we live a reasonably happy life. And it is good to have the chance to shop occasionally in these shops here.

The same would apply to you in Poland with regards Tesco of which there are several in every big town nowadays.

So perhaps some of us should try to be more open minded on this particular topic?

SOLIDARITY: Around 50 people came together outside the hospital to express their views on the plan

Protesters ignored by hospital bosses as services are outsourced to a private firm

CALLS from demonstrators outside Luton and Dunstable Hospital on Wednesday fell on deaf ears as a decision to outsource a range of services was passed.

Around 50 people from various unions, most notably UNISON and Unite, made their voices heard outside the main entrance as the hospital's directors arrived in the hope of swaying their decision.

However, it was decided in a meeting that afternoon to outsource the catering, domestic and housekeeping services to a private company.

A spokeswoman for Luton and Dunstable Hospital said: "The board has made a decision on the preferred bidder and will be proceeding to contract."

"Once the bidders and staff affected have been notified we will commence a 14 day standstill period."

Cheryl Godber, UNISON's regional organiser, said: "Privatisation leads to worse services as companies cut staff numbers, workers' terms and conditions, and materials in order to maximise their profits."

"By handing over these services to a previously unknown private company the trust is taking a risk."

Illegal cigarette trade uncovered in shops

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

TRADING standards has seized almost £22,000 worth of illegal tobacco as part of an ongoing crackdown across Luton.

The raids, conducted across 12 premises in the town on July 15 and 16 by a Borough Council Trading Standards team, netted 6,000 cigarettes, 200 cigars and 26kg of other tobacco products, worth a total value of £21,960.

Councillor Jacqui Burnett, portfolio holder for trading standards, said: "This is the sixth crackdown in the last two years."

"The good news is the quantity of illegal tobacco being seized is reducing but it is concerning that shops are still tempted to sell illegal products, particularly those who have already been caught carrying out this activity."

Illegal tobacco products were discovered in eight of the twelve shops visited, though illegal cigarettes had already been found before in three of them.

SEIZED: The sniffer dog used in the raids in front of the £22,000 haul from the eight shops where illicit tobacco was found in Luton

The eight shops could face prosecution and a review of their alcohol licences, if they hold one.

Officers found tobacco scattered in small quantities throughout the shops including under the counter, on top of a drinks cabinet, in an upstairs store room and in a shopkeeper's vehicle.

In addition to being non-duty paid, officers suspect some of the tobacco may also be counterfeit.

On the progress made, a Luton Borough Council spokeswoman said: "The work is part of an ongoing initiative."

"Overall, the quantities being seized have reduced - earlier operations were netting over 30,000 cigarettes from some shops."

"The latest seizure is on a much smaller scale, so it appears to be making a positive impact in terms of number of illicit products found."

POPE
Gwen (Heenan)

The much loved mother of Susan, Jacqueline and Anthony; and granny to Sara, passed away peacefully on Friday 17th July 2015 at 1pm in the L&D Hospital aged 71 years. Gwen will be reunited with Tony, her beloved husband of 37 years, who passed away in April 2002. Originally from Dundrum, County Down, NI, Gwen was a popular and well-known member of the community with a circle of friends whom she held very dear. Gwen lived in Luton for over 50 years and her humour, warmth and 'sparkle' will be missed by everyone who knew her. Gwen retired from over 20 years' service with Vauxhall/IBC and was an active participant in a local Dominoes Ladies League, a weekly Swimming Club and the Luton Bobbers Supporters Club. During the nineteen-sixties, Gwen played for Luton Town Ladies Football, where she was once awarded Player of the Year. Gwen was also selected to play for the England Ladies' Football team, a personal achievement of which Gwen and her family were very proud. Gwen's funeral will be on Thursday, 6th August at 12pm at the Vale Crematorium in Stopsley and the family would welcome all who knew and loved her to attend. To reflect Gwen's bright, cheerful personality, the family would welcome brightly coloured flowers and tributes.

'Honey trap' scam inspired filmmaker

BY CARL MUNGASI
carl.mungasi@lutononsunday.co.uk

ENCOUNTERS with illegal immigrants who have been conned by 'honey trap' marriage proposals is the inspiration behind a film on the subject.

Independent film-maker Aminul Islam, of Beech Hill Road, Luton, said he has seen men pay hundreds of pounds to arrange marriages with European nationals in a bid to earn citizenship and a right to stay in the UK. Mr Islam's production '3 Illegal' tells the story of three Bangladeshi men from Luton conned by a Bulgarian woman promising to marry them in exchange for money.

The director said it was inspired in part by a man he met in the town who had been a victim of the ploy.

He said: "I have seen this 'honey trap' in real life. The girl said she would come over to England and get married to him.

"He was hoping that as soon as she came over he would stop being illegal.

"She asked him for money for the plane ticket and then £800 for travel insurance but then after that she was gone and obviously he cannot explain it to the police because he is illegal."

The film is due to be released early next year and features a number of big name Bangladeshi stars, as well as two local actors Nicola O'Donnell and Belal Hussain.

BLAZE: The fire was being investigated as deliberate

Bench destroyed by fire to be replaced

A NEW village bench is on its way after it was set fire to in a memorial garden last week.

An insurance claim for the bench, which was torched in Toddington early last Monday morning, has been put in and a new one is on its way. It is as yet unknown when it will be fitted.

Bedfordshire Police were looking into the incident but have halted the investigation due to insufficient evidence.

Plan for fast link from airport to rail station

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PROPOSALS to build a light rail system between the airport and one of the town's railway stations are being considered to help boost passenger capacity.

Luton Airport said it is 'working with various partners' to find a way of shortening the travel time between the Luton Airport Parkway station and its terminal.

Their announcement follows the Airports Commission report which called on 'more intensive utilisation of existing airports other than Heathrow and Gatwick' as part of the UK's growth in domestic and international connectivity.

Last year Luton Borough Council gave the airport permission to go ahead with a £100 million development programme designed to increase annual capacity by 50 per cent to 18 million by 2026.

This will be accompanied by a drive to make it easier for passengers to reach the airport, including plans to increase the single 19 minutes fast train between Luton Airport Parkway and London to four trains per hour.

Nick Barton, the airport's chief executive officer, said: "The plan is to come up with a long-term solution."

The options are around a mass passenger system which could be light rail or conventional rail.

He added: "Connectivity is the priority. We know the future is to be an integrated part of the transport network."

Flying lady was the inspiration for new name

THIS week Howard Chandler gives us the lowdown on one of the town's high achievers

WHEN a new name was needed for Lea Road in Leagrave, the name Hewlett Road was chosen to avoid confusion with the Lea Road off Park Street in the town centre.

This commemorated a remarkable Leagrave resident, Hilda B Hewlett, who was the first UK woman to gain a pilot's licence, just eight years after the Wright Brothers first flight.

She later opened an aeroplane manufacturing business with the man who instructed her, Gustave Blondeau. In 1914, Luton plait merchant Henry Abraham offered them free land on a cornfield beside what is now Oakley Road to promote business and housing.

The Omnia works produced over 800 planes for the war effort in just four years, employing up to 700 people. Unfortunately, the firm went into liquidation in 1920 and the site was acquired by Electrolux in 1926.

Hilda left for New Zealand while Gustave remained, dying at his Old Bedford Road house in 1965.

Ex-Hatters striker to go on trial after denying race attack

FORMER Luton Town player Ricky Miller has denied a racially aggravated assault on a taxi driver.

Mr Miller, 26, of Valence End, Dunstable, is accused of racially aggravated fear of violence, racially aggravated common assault and an alternative charge of assault by beating.

They are related to an incident in Hockliffe on April 27.

Another former Hatter, Shaun Whalley, 27, who was arrested the following day, April 28, in connection with the alleged incident, earlier had his bail cancelled due to insufficient evidence.

Mr Miller pleaded not guilty to all three charges and was bailed. His trial is due to start on October 26 this year.

Supermarket to bring jobs boost

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FOOD retail giant Aldi will begin building a new supermarket that will create more than 40 jobs this summer.

The food store, which already has an outlet in Dunstable and the Laporte Retail Park, will build the new shop on a 1.6 acre site at Scott Road, Sundon Park.

Aldi secured planning permission from Luton Borough Council to build a new supermarket expected to create more than 40 full and part-time jobs for local people.

Property consultancy firm Kirkby Diamond, which is working with Aldi on the project, acquired Scott Road Industrial Estate, together with the 1.6 acre site, in 2009.

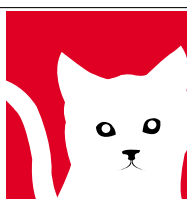

The area has been undeveloped since it was built in the late 1990s. Aldi said the store would be accessed via Park Avenue and would have free parking for customers.

Eamon Kennedy, head of commercial agency at Kirkby Diamond, said the 16,500sq ft site will 'benefit local residents who wanted a good quality local food store, and also the wider community as it will provide parking for Sundon Park Centre visitors'.

He added: "The community in Sundon Park has long wanted a food store, so bringing Aldi will provide a much-needed facility."

"However, crucially, this development will also alleviate the pressure on the existing parking provision in the area, thereby helping to create a better neighbourhood."

BY NICK SMITH

nicksmith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE behind-the-scenes preparation is done, the acts are booked and rehearsals are underway as next weekend tens of thousands of people are expected to pile into Wardown Park for the Luton Mela.

The buzz and nerves are very real among the people who have spent the last year tirelessly organising and expanding the event.

Speaking at the official launch of the 2015 Mela on Thursday evening, chairman Zulfiqar Ahmed said: "We're very excited about the fact that we're going to have a much bigger Mela this year."

"It's going to be very diverse, representing most of the communities of Luton."

This is the first time that the event will be hosted over two days, celebrating the 15th Mela.

Mr Ahmed added: "In 15 years, the profile of the event has increased to a national level and we will look to capitalise on that."

Furhaad Ahmed, marketing manager, said: "What we're striving for is an inclusive event, regardless of age, gender, race or religion, that shows off the best Luton has to offer."

ONE WEEK TO GO: Andrew Parkes performing at the launch of the 15th Luton Mela next weekend and right, Mayor Dave Taylor with Mela chairman Zulfiqar Ahmed

Thursday night also saw the finale of the Talent Quest, with a place on the main stage up for grabs.

One of the judges was Asian singing superstar Navin Kundra, who will be performing next weekend.

He said: "It's great to see something like this, as it was how I managed to actually get my big break. It's an important way to give people a much needed platform."

The winner was 14-year-old singer Melissa Norwood.

Frankie Prazer, who hosted the event, said: "All of the artists were excellent, but Melissa stole the show and made the stage her own."

Mr Prazer will also be playing a big role at the event,

FROSTS
...naturally

The heart of every kitchen is the oven, where heat works its magic, turning raw ingredients into wonderful food and aromas. Today's built in ovens combine innovative technology with energy efficiency and sleek, stylish design.

The multi-function oven combines all the benefits of hot air cooking with additional functions such as conventional cooking, grilling, hot air grilling, top/bottom heat only and defrosting. Hot air cooking is ideal for all types of food allowing you to cook sweet and savoury food at the same time without flavours and smells intermingling. Advanced cooking technology ensures precise heat circulation and exact temperature control. The result is perfect cooking in every corner, on any shelf, in any position.

Combination compact ovens are now available with the option of steam with hot air cooking. 100% steam cooking retains moisture and nutrients in the food, this is ideal for cooking rice, fish, vegetables and fruit, making a tastier and a healthier meal. 50% steam and 50% hot air helps conserve the texture and humidity of the food. This is ideal for casseroles, soufflés and reheating dishes. Reheating using steam puts life back into food using moisture, making food taste just as delicious the second time round. Whilst 25% steam and 75% hot air locks in the moisture and browns the outside for irresistible flavour creating juicy succulent meat and crunchy vegetables cooked to perfection.

Induction hob cooking is recognised as being one of the quickest, safest and most efficient methods of cooking available. Automatic pan recognition ensures that only pans heat up. When a pan with a ferrous or magnetic metal base is placed on the hob, the coil situated below the ceramic glass surface uses an electromagnetic field to create heat. Almost instantly heating the pan, with only the base of the pan heated, the cooking surface stays cool. Induction hobs are capable of bringing a pan to the boil faster than a comparable gas or conventional electric hob.

With all this power and technology at your fingertips, cooking will become quick and simple so you can sit back and enjoy delicious food, one of the finest things in life.

Bedrooms to die for

Following on in the Shabby Chic theme bedrooms lend themselves particularly well to this design with its pastel tones and elaborate furniture appliques depicting floral swags & garlands, cherubs and hearts.

You can treat yourself to as many pieces as your budget allows or have a go yourself at recreating the paint effects and rejuvenating old tired furniture. If unsure of your skills practice on any unwanted items or pick up something from a re-cycling or salvage yard.

Paint can be sanded back to give the aged look and is available in all the vintage tones.

Lime waxing is a great way to get the look if you don't want to add colour and can be built up to create the depth of tone required but keeping the wood grain visible.

Luxurious linens, throws & cushions complement the look and if your budget allows why not add a chandelier to add a touch of luxury.

If floral Shabby Chic is not your style then try Beach Cottage Chic or French Country, whatever you decide have fun creating your look.

WORKSHOP

ANIMAL EDUTAINMENT

Luton Libraries
Monday and Tuesday

AS part of this year's Reading Challenge, Luton Culture is giving children the chance to experience animals they have been learning about up close and personal.

The theme for this year's challenge is record breaking animals, and Animal Edutainment is on hand to provide Luton kids the opportunity to learn about a variety of animals, including a wide whole host of reptiles, mammals, invertebrates and more.

The operation is run by the husband and wife team of Walter and Bridget Morsitt.

Bridget said: "We've always been into conservation and this is just a chance for children to learn about animals, up close and personal, which they might not be able to otherwise."

"However, Walter tends more to deal with the animal side, while I'm more focused on the administration."

"These events allow the kids who have been taking part to experience some of the animals they have been reading about first hand."

On why they decide to aim the event at children, she added: "When young children get introduced to animals like snakes and tarantulas at that age it removes any sense of fear."

"Our events have been incredibly well received by kids and adults alike and a lot of the time it's the

REALLY WILD: Beasts and bugs will pay a visit to a number of libraries in and around Luton, all in the name of 'edutainment' children who are keener to get involved than their parents."

The group travels all over the UK with its workshop, but until February was based in Luton.

If you're unable to make these events, Bridget promises that there are lots more to come in the Luton area before the end of the year.

For more information on what they do, visit their website at animaledu.co.uk, or find them on Facebook by visiting facebook.com/animaledu

There are three events held in the coming days, with hour sessions running at Leagrave Library tomorrow at 9.45am, Bury Park Library from 12pm, and on Tuesday at Stopsley Library from 11am.

To book your child's place, contact the library hosting the event you wish to attend. It is recommended for ages 3+ and costs £3.

Getting revved up for powered Lego car races

FAMILY FUN

BRICKS IN MOTION - ACTIVITY SESSION

Stockwood Discovery Centre
August 3 - September 3

LINKED with an exhibition showcasing what can be created with a few million Lego bricks, kids are being offered the chance to build their own dream machines.

Teams of children will go head-to-head, building a car and, using gravity alone, will see whose goes the furthest.

The hour-long sessions will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 10.15am, 11.45am, 1.45pm and 3.15pm and costs £7.50.

This is a chance for something different over the summer holidays and will not only give encourage your child to summon up a bit of competitive spirit, they'll also get to build and keep their own Lego racer as part of the entry fee.

The challenge ties in with an exhibition at the centre, which reconstructs some of the marvels of transport using Lego. Both are organised by Bright Bricks, as part of the company's Bricks in Motion Tour.

The exhibition itself showcases a variety of vehicles constructed entirely out of Lego by professional model makers.

On display is everything from road and racing cars to a hot air balloon and a model of the Titanic, made of over 200,000 bricks, just a small portion of the estimated 15 million that the company has to play with.

The man behind the creations, Ed Dimont, said: "It took about nine months to build the entire collection and we had a number of different people working on it."

"It's a huge collection and it takes a couple of full-size lorries to move them all."

"It can take six people to set up because it's a big deal and is among the biggest Lego touring shows in the world."

Additional sessions may be available, call 01582 548600 for any details or any other enquiries you may have about the events.

Foxy tale will steal the show as Novus take on children's classic

FANTASTIC MR FOX

The University of Bedford Theatre
From July 30 to August 6, 6.30pm

A THEATRE company will be working with an organisation to get children out of poverty to put on a show of one of Roald Dahl's classic books.

Following the success of its production last year, Novus Theatre will be putting on a number of performances of 'Fantastic Mr Fox' at the University of Bedfordshire theatre in Polhill Avenue.

In the show, Mr Fox steals food from the horrible farmers Boggis, Bunce and Bean – one fat, one short one lean.

These three crooks concoct a plan to dig Mr Fox out of his home, but they don't realise how truly fantastic Mr Fox is, or how far he'll go to save his family.

The show, perfect for families with young children, will be one with a difference, as the company is working in conjunction with the Level Trust charity, which seeks to help children living in poverty in Luton to get to most out of their education, in order to provide an exciting experience for young people across Bedfordshire.

ANIMAL MAGIC: Novus Theatre group decked out in their best animal attire ahead of performances starting next week

This falls as part of the charity's running activity week, SMASH, centred around the performing arts, which received a Children in Need grant to provide the scheme to 150 children for free, and the show will be a highlight of the week.

Jane Malcolm, director of Level Trust said: "The summer school is aimed at children who speak English as an additional language who struggle to afford to do activities over the summer holidays. Seeing a performance and taking part in workshops by Novus Theatre will inspire the children to have more confidence in themselves, which will in turn enhance their English speaking.

"We can't wait!"

If you are not a child, channel your inner mischief maker and join Roald Dahl's enduring hero on an amazing adventure at the University of Bedfordshire Theatre.

The show runs from July 30 until August 6, with tickets £7 for adults and £6 for children, available from The University of Bedfordshire Box Office in Bedford by calling 01234 793197 or emailing boxoffice@beds.ac.uk. The show starts at 6.30pm.

All Shook Up by brand new Elvis inspired show

LOVE ME TENDER

Milton Keynes Theatre

Tomorrow until August 1, 7.30pm

HAVE you ever wondered what would happen if you crossed Elvis with Shakespeare? Probably not, but we are here to tell you that you can see it live.

Love Me Tender, written by Tony Award Winner Joe DiPietro, has all the elements of a Shakespearean classic: cross dressing, mistaken identities, lovers' chasing each other around the place and a string of amazing Elvis Presley hits.

A guitar-playing, hip-swivelling stranger rides into a small town on his motorbike and turns the repressed lives of the locals upside down in a tale of hope, second chances and the healing qualities of Rock 'n' Roll.

LoS caught up with Mica Paris, who plays Sylvia, who raved about the humour and depth of this brand new show.

Mica said: "I'm not just saying this because I'm part of it, but it is a really good show. When I first read the script for it I was so drawn to it I just knew I had to do it."

"It also deals with racism and segregation in such a light hearted way."

"Too often people deal with race and other 'isms' in such a depressing way so this was refreshing."

The show runs from tomorrow until August 1 at 7.30pm, along with 2.30pm matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Take them to the Dungeon! Three winners revealed

COMPETITION

EARLIER this month Luton on Sunday teamed up with The London Dungeon to offer three lucky readers a family ticket to the famous attraction.

After receiving many entries we had to choose just three, who have the chance to head down to the capital and experience some of the scariest shows in the country.

The competition tied in with a new pop-up show which shatters many of the inexplicable myths shrouding the case of one of history's most notorious serial killers and the Dungeon's most famous resident – Jack the Ripper.

Did the killer really remove organs from his victims or were they removed in the mortuary after wards?

Were there more than five victims?

Were they actually killed by the same hand or was there more than one murderer at large?

The new attraction sees visitors have to navigate Whitechapel with the ripper hot on their heels.

As well as Jack, guests should prepare for close encounters with some of London's most deadly past residents, from Sweeney Todd to King Henry VIII, as 1,000 years of the capital's murky past is brought to life in 18 shows, featuring 20 acts and two thrilling rides plus plenty of other edge-of-your-seat surprises.

So, our lucky winners are as follows:

Steven Dolby

Caroline Bates

Louise Haden

All winners have been notified.

SHREK THE MUSICAL

Milton Keynes Theatre

August 18 to September 6

TO celebrate the arrival of Shrek The Musical, Luton on Sunday has teamed up with Milton Keynes Theatre to offer the chance to win tickets to the acclaimed show.

Because we don't want Shrek and Princess Fiona to feel uncomfortable, we're inviting you to take the most ghastly picture of yourself you can.

All you have to do to be in with a chance of winning is pull the most gruesome ogre-ish face you can in a ShrekSelfie.

Your ShrekSelfie can feature your whole family, you and your friends or just you alone, in your most terrifying monster makeup if you like.

All of the entries we receive will be posted in a gallery on our website and the best will win a family ticket (two adults and two children) to see the show at Milton Keynes Theatre on August 19 at 7pm, along with a backstage tour.

To enter, just tweet your photo using the hashtag #ShrekSelfie to @LutonOnSunday and @

SELFIE: Tweet us your best, or worst, photo to be in with a chance of winning MKTheatre.

The closing date for entries is August 3.

The editor's decision is final. The performance, which had a wildly successful spell on the West End, where it was seen by almost a million people, will be stopping off for a run at the theatre as part of its UK tour, selling out theatres across the country and gathering rave reviews.

PRESS RELEASE

JULY 2015

IT'S A SELLER'S MARKET,
SAYS CONNELLS

Local estate agency Connells in Luton is urging prospective home movers to capitalise on a strong market and think about putting their property up for sale now. Latest data from Connells shows that for every property coming onto the market, there are nearly seven registered buyers, and there has never been a better time to sell.

"The current market is in the seller's favour, with high demand for available homes and prices on the rise," says Lee Clark, Branch Partner at Connells. "Having such high numbers of registered buyers means that sellers can expect their properties to get great exposure and lots of viewings. We find that the more exposure and viewings a property gets, the easier it is to sell and at a much more competitive price."

"We have some of the best negotiators in the industry who work hard to secure the best prices for our customers," Lee continues. "With average house values steadily rising for the last four consecutive months, prospective sellers can be confident that we will do everything we can to get them the best price for their house and provide them with a quick, easy sale."

If you have a property to sell and would like to book a free market appraisal with Connells, please contact the branch on 01582 450999 or email: Luton@connells.co.uk

Connells In Dunstable Acquires Selective Lets

Property sales and lettings agency Connells are delighted to announce it has completed the acquisition of Selective Lets. The purchase by Connells, which has a well established sales and lettings presence in the region, will extend the company's market leading lettings service to even more tenants, landlords and buy-to-let investors. Selective Lets is a local independent and family run residential lettings and property management business covering Dunstable, Houghton Regis, Luton and the surrounding areas. Established in 1986 by Stuart Brown, and with over 40 years of combined lettings experience, the company grew into an incredibly successful business that prided itself on its outstanding customer service and personal touch. With seller Stuart Brown retiring, Connells is delighted to acquire the lettings business which will be transferred into the Dunstable branch. Connells will also retain one of Selective Let's key members of staff – Tom Spencer-Lewis – who, with a wealth of experience, will assist with managing the transfer of the business and continue to offer consistency to landlords and tenants. "Dunstable and its surrounding area is a developing market and one where demand for rental properties and homes to let has increased massively in recent years," says Lettings Area Partner Mark Alvis. "We work with a large number of local landlords and tenants and offer a range of services to these customers. We are delighted to integrate Selective Lets into our Connells Dunstable branch and thrilled to welcome Tom into the team." Stuart Brown, owner of Selective Lets comments: "After much discussion and deliberation, I have decided that the best way forward is for our managed property portfolio to be taken over by Connells Ltd. With around 170 branches throughout the UK, Connells has the specialist resources and expertise that will be essential for landlords over the coming months and years. After much discussion with their management team, I am confident that they are well placed to look after our landlords going forward." The purchase forms part of a wider initiative by Connells parent company the Connells Group to double the size of its national network of lettings branches by the end of 2015. The ambitious target will be realised through further acquisitions of lettings businesses and a programme of new branch openings. In light of the expansion plans, Connells is urging local lettings business to get in touch and discuss possibilities for acquisition. Connells Lettings can offer a range of lettings services and advice, from matching tenants to their ideal properties to full property management, rent collection and insurance advice. They also offer free market appraisals. If you have property to let, or are looking for a rental home, please contact the lettings team on 01582 481369 or email lutonlet@connells.co.uk

Mitsubishi's new ASX model line-up has that fresh look

Exterior design changes see two-tone 18" alloy wheels and more dynamic looking wheel arches added to the mid and high specification ASX models which give the exterior a fresh new look. Widespread updates to the interior, including a new ergonomically enhanced three-spoke steering wheel, improve refinement across the range.

The Mitsubishi ASX is now available with a new Euro 6 compliant 1.6 turbo diesel engine. This frugal yet punchy unit produces 112bhp and just 119g/km CO2, meaning zero VED in the first year of ownership.

The new range has also undergone a name change, with the new line-up consisting of the entry level ASX ZC, the mid-level ASX ZC-M, and the range topping ASX ZC-H. Mitsubishi's clever and capable crossover has always stood out from the crowd – and with the revised model just arriving in dealerships, it will soon be attracting more attention than ever.

The ASX has the choice of three

STANDING OUT: Mitsubishi is expecting more attention than ever before Euro 6 compliant engines: A 1.6 petrol with 115bhp. The new 1.6 Di-D turbo-diesel with 112bhp which produces just 119g/km CO2, and the existing 2.2 DOHC 16V engine found in Outlander.

Based on the same platform as the Outlander, Lancer and Lancer Evolution X, the ASX bridges the gap between Mitsubishi's conventional passenger cars and its rugged off-roaders. Practicality and versatility are key to the appeal of the ASX. With a wheelbase to match the Outlander, passenger space is generous, with the flexible seating inside making the ASX just the right size for customers looking for a practical, enjoyable family car.

Helping the ASX achieve its impressive economy and emissions figures are low rolling resistance tyres and intelligent power management, to allow the ASX to return its impressive consumption figures. Indeed, every aspect of the ASX has been engineered with its environmental performance in mind, to help create not just an enjoyable, versatile family vehicle, but a responsible one too.

Like other models in the Mitsubishi range, ASX is temptingly priced but that doesn't mean it's lacking key standard equipment. All models have alloy wheels, air conditioning, electric windows and keyless entry. Other desirable features such as Bluetooth, leather upholstery, satellite navigation, seat heaters and a reversing camera are available.

Citroen Cactus

Take a look inside...

- £12,990 - £18,290
- 0-62mph 9.3 secs
- CO2 (g/km): 107
- Combined mpg 91.1
- Top Speed: 117mph

The stunning C4 Cactus crossover is resolutely modern but is also in some ways a throwback to a time when Citroen was renowned as a design leader.

The Citroen C4 Cactus looks unlike any other vehicle on the roads thanks to its Airbump side cladding and a whole host of other bold details. Under the skin, it's much the same as a C3, which isn't quite so avant-garde, but as a comfortable and simple city scoot, it has much to commend it.

To the cynical eye, it would seem that there's very little new in car design. In fact, a common refrain with car buyers is that many new cars look the same, all trending towards a common form factor per genre. Citroen clearly doesn't agree. In the past it was a company that dared to be different and brought us quirky, individualistic cars like the DS, 2CV, the SM, the CX and the BX. Even in later years, Citroen showed that it could do things in its own way with interesting stuff like the Xantia Activa, the C6 and the C4. Of course, different doesn't always mean better, and some of Citroen's best efforts were resounding flops.

Step forward the C4 Cactus - and its timing couldn't be better. Just when crossover vehicles had become so popular that they had moved from the edgy alternative to a family hatch to become the most mainstream, boring, suburban choice imaginable, Citroen has shaken things up.

The C4 Cactus might be a bit too much for a middle-aged school run mum, but I think many others are going to find it to their liking.

The Citroen C4 Cactus might look as if it's just driven off a motor show stand, but questions remain as to how many buyers are looking for something quite so extreme.

There's also the inconvenient fact that once you've got past the flourishes of a stylist's pen, the mechanicals, driving experience and equipment levels of the car are rather average.

So is this a car that's all style and no substance? Not really. It's hard to argue with something that puts a smile on your face yet can return fuel consumption figures in the nineties. Anything that makes frugality a little more fun is to be welcomed and there ought to be a place for the C4 Cactus in a congested automotive market.

GREAT STRIKE: Alex Atkinson blasts home against Thurrock
Pictures: Gareth Owen

Zola stakes claim in victory at Thurrock

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

PRE-SEASON FRIENDLY
THURROCK
LUTON TOWN

JAKE Howells scored twice and wore the captain's armband in what could be his last outing as a Luton player in a 4-2 pre-season win at Thurrock.

The Hatters stalwart was not handed a squad number for the coming season and manager John Still has revealed that he's asked to leave, though a bid has been turned down.

The game also saw trialist and former Stevenage striker Calvin Zola put in a lively performance, without getting the goal he deserved, while Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu started his first game since the Valentine's Day win over Carlisle.

Town's other strikes came from an own goal and a wonder striker from Hatters youth midfielder Alex Atkinson with virtually his first touch after coming on as a 60th minute substitute.

Luton were a goal behind inside a minute when Fleet forward Daniel Francis picked the pocket of last man Magnus Okuonghae and drove beneath keeper Craig King.

EYES ON THE BALL: Action from Thurrock v Luton

Zola missed two quick-fire chances but the Hatters were level in the seventh minute when Thurrock centre back Lewis Clark turned into his own net.

Another defensive gaffe saw Town take the lead in the 16th minute when Phil Anderson up-ended Zola on the goal-line and Howells stroked in from the spot.

The visitors were sluggish again at the back and should have been pegged back but Steven Carvell sliced wide from in front of goal.

Zola was having a busy evening in front of goal and he was on target with his third effort, but Rhys Madden palmed away and Howells slashed the rebound over.

The tall striker then saw a looped headed/shouldered effort drop just wide of the post.

There was a let-off for Luton as half time approached when Carvell headed wide after getting the better of Luke Trotman at the back post.

Zola was again in the thick of the action after the restart, setting up strike partner Mustapha Tiryaki, but the trialist wasn't quite quick enough to beat keeper Madden to the ball.

Cumberland send county spiralling to another loss

A DISASTROUS second innings condemned Bedfordshire to a seven wicket defeat against Cumberland as they once again lost from a strong position.

After losing their last Minor Counties Championship outing against Buckinghamshire despite a first innings lead of 121 runs, Beds again took control at Bedford School, posting 397 before bowling Cumberland out for just 281.

The hosts set about extending their lead but collapsed to a paltry 87 all out to leave the visitors needing only 204 to win.

This they achieved for the loss of just four wickets, meaning Bedfordshire's long wait for a victory in three day cricket goes on.

Their last success was more than five years ago when they beat Hertfordshire by 18 runs on July 18 in 2010, also at Bedford School.

It all started so well as Luke Thomas' superb opening innings.

There were also more than handy contributions from Charlie Thurston (70), skipper James Middlebrook (56) and George Thurstone (78) before Beds got underway with the ball. Ed Wharton finished with figures of 4-61 as Cumberland were bowled out when still 116 runs behind.

The hosts then made it to 44-0 as they looked to take the game beyond Cumberland, but they then lost all ten of their wickets for a dismal 43 to leave themselves as second favourites in the match late on day two on Monday.

Toby Bulcock ended with barely believable figures of 5-3 as the last eight men in the Bedfordshire order added just 18 to the total.

Cumberland had few problems in chasing down their victory target on Tuesday with Jonathan Miles (79 not out) and Gary Pratt (66 not out) steering their side home and remaining unbeaten at the end.

Pratt was the man who famously ran out Australia captain Ricky Ponting as an England sub fielder during the 2005 Ashes.

The visitors now lead the Eastern Division but Bedfordshire have slipped to seventh ahead of their next game at Suffolk which begins on August 2 at Ipswich School.

Ruddock Mpanzu made way on the hour and his replacement, Atkinson, made an almost instant impact with a long range screamer, in off the Thurrock post.

It should have been 4-1 shortly after when Isaac Galliford raced clear only to pull his shot wide. But there was no such haste from Howells in the 76th minute when he drilled in from an even more acute angle for his second of the game.

The hosts pulled one back when substitute Cameron McJanett made a mess of a clearance and Jordan Clark smashed in from close range.

• On Tuesday, the Hatters ran the rule over four more trialists in a 2-1 friendly victory over Kettering Town.

Former Chelsea defender Nortei Nortey and ex-Aston Villa midfielder Courtney Cameron turned out for the Hatters XI side which were victorious at Burton Latimer.

Omar Rowe, a winger last at Southampton, and ex-Barnet man Tinashe Abrahams were also involved against the newly promoted Southern Premier Division side.

Rowe and summer signing Jack Marriott scored the goals for Luton, with Silvan Obeng on target for Kettering.

Luton also fielded transfer listed duo Andy Parry and Matt Robinson, who have not been given squad numbers and are expected to depart, alongside a handful of youngsters.

A BIT LIKE KEV: Steve McNulty

Potts says skipper is like Hammers' Nolan

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DAN Potts has drawn comparison between Luton skipper Steve McNulty and West Ham captain Kevin Nolan – and it's not because they're both Scousers.

The defender says this summer's transition from the Hammers to the Hatters has been smooth, with the imposing Town centre back taking a lead in a welcoming party that has had ten new faces to integrate into the squad.

"Straight away you could tell he is the captain," Potts said of McNulty, adding: "He's a very similar personality with regards to the captains [I've had]. I had Kevin Nolan at West Ham and they are very, very similar.

"They're the sort of characters you need in the squad and in the dressing room. It's not only on the pitch, you need them sort of players off the pitch as well. It's good to see that."

A pre-season training camp abroad helped the new signings acclimatise to their new teammates, after which Potts has admitted: "I went out to Portugal and fitted in with the lads straight away and it seems like I've been here a lot longer than I have.

"It's credit to the lads, they're a good bunch and every single one of them have made me feel welcome.

"There are a couple of other lads that are new to the set-up and I think that has really brought the squad together.

"It seems like we've been together for longer than a couple of weeks."

It's a togetherness that will be needed as half of boss John Still's new acquisitions will be competing for places in his backline.

"It's a big squad and it's very strong in depth," said Potts who will battle it out with Scott Griffiths for the left back berth.

"There are going to be injuries and suspensions throughout the season, so the gaffer has been clever and got the players in early.

"It's definitely going to help in the long run."

Decision on CMS future is imminent for Hatters

IN DEMAND: Craig Mackail-Smith

HATTERS fans looked set to learn the future of on-trial striker Craig Mackail-Smith at yesterday's pre-season friendly against Coventry City at Kenilworth Road.

A decision on the Scottish international's future was expected by the end of this week, so any inclusion in the clash with the Sky Blues would be the biggest indication yet as to the sought after forward's fate.

The game kicked-off after Luton on Sunday went to print with other trialists, including former Stevenage, Burton and Aberdeen target man Calvin Zola, also awaiting a decision on their futures.

Boss John Still hinted that anyone not involved in the Coventry game, as well as the further home friendlies against Brentford and Walsall, was unlikely to form a part of his squad for the upcoming League Two season.

Still said this week: "We've got two-and-a-half weeks until the season, so we've got bags of time, but I'll start formulating some stuff in my mind and won't necessarily use people that I'm not going to be taking.

"For the trialists, I have to decide whether or not I'm going to do something with them, or I won't, perhaps, be using them in these three games.

"By the end of this week, we'll know exactly where we are with everything."

Mackail-Smith, who was a prolific goalscorer with Peterborough United and was released by Brighton at the end of last season, would be a major summer acquisition for the Hatters.

On the talks with the frontman, who Still signed from Arlesey Town when manager of Dagenham & Redbridge, the boss said: "It's been fine. It's a really difficult situation because Craig is someone I've known for a long time. There has been no hard sell from us and there has been no push from him.

"We agreed that we'd do some training and get to a time when we'll have to make a decision on whether indeed we want to take him and he'll have to make the decision on whether he wants to come. Over the next couple of days those things will all unfold."

Angol opts for Posh over Premier League

BY DAN PALMER
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LEE Angol has signed for Peterborough United after snubbing the offer of a new contract at Luton Town.

The now ex-Hatters striker turned down a new contract at Kenilworth Road this summer after a season on loan in the Conference South with Boreham Wood.

He will now step up to League One with Posh, who have signed him for an undisclosed fee as Luton exercised their right to claim compensation.

The 20-year-old ex Tottenham Hotspur youth scored 25 goals for Wood as they were promoted to the National League but he never made a first team appearance in Hatters colours.

He has signed a three year deal at Peterborough, who fended off competition from Premier League and Championship clubs for his signature according to their manager Dave Robertson.

"Lee is an exciting young forward who scored a hatful of goals for Boreham Wood last season," Robertson told Peterborough's official site. "I have spent some time with him and it is obvious that he is hungry and wants to develop as a striker.

"We have beaten off other clubs from the Premier League and the Championship to sign him and I believe he will provide competition for places and make a real impression."

Angol added: "It has been a tough few weeks mentally, but I am really happy that everything has been sorted and I am here.

"There has been interest from other clubs, but once I spoke to the manager, I knew that I wanted to sign for Peterborough.

"The club has a great history with strikers scoring goals and hopefully I can follow in their footsteps. Dwight Gayle actually followed a similar path to me, he left a Premier League club, went out on-loan to non-league clubs and scored goals and obviously John Still was his manager at the time [at Dagenham].

"I like to score goals, but I like to entertain as well and create goals.

"I hope that I can hit the ground running and score in my first pre-season game."

Meanwhile, transfer listed defender Alex Lacey has joined the Hatters' League Two rivals Yeovil Town, who had been linked with him earlier in the summer.

Howells hopes fans will understand his departure

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

THE long goodbye has begun but despite sleepless nights, wrestling with the decision, Jake Howells just hopes that the Luton Town fans can understand why he wants to 'move on'.

Boss John Still revealed earlier this month that the 24-year-old stalwart had asked to leave and his departure moved a step closer on Monday when he was omitted from the club's squad for the coming season.

Howells had already informed the manager before ten new recruits flooded in this summer and though his eight-year love affair with the club seems set to end, the Hatters have already rejected one club's bid.

But, as exit strategies go, there has been no acrimony, no scandal, no tantrums and no pre-season sickies – just a respectful request to part ways after 317 appearances.

"It was a very hard decision for me and it took me a lot of time, a lot of nights, thinking," Howells told the Luton on Sunday.

"The gaffer said to me a number of

POISED TO LEAVE: Jake Howells. Turn inside for a report from Thurrock times that he wanted me to stay. The whole club wants me to stay, from what I know. I can't knock them but I've asked to move on."

The former Wales U21 ace penned a two-year deal last summer but his request, halfway through that term, has been taken to jolt him out of his "comfort zone", to which he added: "I hope everyone can see why I've decided to move on.

"I don't want people to say, 'Jake Howells, he wants to leave', I want people to say, 'he is moving on in his career to try something new'.

"I love the fans to pieces because they've supported me over the eight years that I've been here.

"As a little kid, I dreamt of being a footballer. To play in front of 8,000 or 9,000 every week is special. I've seen the lowest of the low with the club but it's on the way up now and I can't praise them enough. Hopefully they get to where they deserve to be."

The imminent exit can draw some comparisons with former Hatters hero Keith Keane, who left the club in 2012 having graduated from the Kenilworth Road youth ranks. Now at Cambridge, the Luton-born midfielder was a sounding board for Howells, who said: "I've always kept in touch with him, since he left the club.

"I'm good mates with him and played a lot of years with him. He moved on and he said it was one of the best decisions.

"Of course it's a risk in anyone's career to leave a club like Luton Town, to move on, but I've got to try something new and I feel that this is the right time for me to try it."

In what could have been his last game for the club, Howells captained Town and scored twice in a 4-2 pre-season win over Thurrock on Wednesday.

Afterwards he praised the club for their response, but confessed to naivety when it comes to transfers deals. And, after learning that the Hatters had rejected one offer, Howells said: "I think Luton value me more than what was bid, but that's business and I'm a footballer, not a businessman.

"I don't know how these things happen. I've never been in this situation. Luton are doing as much as they can to help me and I've been doing as much as I can."

But the versatile left-footer admitted that his farewell, when it comes, will be emotional because, even though he is originally from Hemel Hempstead, he said: "I'm Luton born and bred. I've played a lot of games and I love Luton with a passion and everyone knows that.

"Every time I play I give 100 per cent and until the day I leave the club I'll give 100 per cent. Even when I leave I'll still be coming back, supporting Luton Town. I wish all the boys the best of luck."
